A notorious character, known as "Wild Bill" Miller, the theatre of whose exploits until of late was in the vicinity of Goliad and Bastrop, Texas, died, a few days since, in Coryell County, from the effects of a gunshot wound at the hands of the sheriff of the County. The sheriff and his posse undertook to arrest Bill for horse stealing, when Bill made resistance, snapping his pistol four times at the officer. The officer then fired, wounding Bill, not dangerously, as was thought at the time, from the effects of which he subsequently died.

FIVE BOYS AT A BIRTH.—Mr. E. W. Pierce, of the Interior Department, has a letter from Lewistown, Mifflin County, Pa., stating that his sister-in-law, Mrs. Pauline J. Hull, had, last week, given birth to five children, all boys, neither of which survived. The letter also states that the mother was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

SYMPATHY FOR CRIMINALS.—The Louisville Courier-Journal judges, "from speeches on the gallows, murderers, in proportion to numbers, have a much larger representation in Heaven than any other class of human beings." STATE TAX ON COTTON.—The following correspondence between County officer Reunion and Comptroller-General Neagle, which we copy from the Greenville Mountaineer, will be of interest to planters throughout the State:

AUDITOR'S OFFICE,
GREENVILLE C. H., (S. C.), Jan. 23, 1869.

Messrs. Editors: In confirmation of the fact that I have said that the producer is not taxed on cotton, I present you with the subpoenaed letter received from the Comptroller-General, which I ask you to publish for general information. I cannot say as to whether the State will refund the money or not, but it is my impression that the State will and ought to give such tax-payer credit on their next return when such tax has been unlawfully paid.

J. M. RUTION, County Auditor.

OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER-GENERAL,
COLUMBIA, S. C., January 21, 1869.

J. M. RUTION, Esquire, Greenville, S. C.

DEAR SIR: There is no such law in force in this State as cotton tax. Merchants, &c., are taxed on their sales—cotton, shoes, corn, homespun cloth and every other article of merchandise, sale, barter or exchange included. The producer is not taxed one cent on cotton. If it is shipped by himself, or by any one in his name for himself, he is not taxed; but as soon as it becomes an article of sale, barter or exchange, it is then included in sales, no difference how often sold. Very respectfully,

J. L. NEAGLE,
Comptroller-General South Carolina.

The population of Baltimore, according to the report of the Census Commissioners, is 352,136. Of these 303,761 are whites, and 48,375 colored. There are in Baltimore 44,988 houses, exclusive of public buildings. The Census Commissioners report 1,669 vacant houses.

Colored people have a fair share of the municipal honors in Nashville. Two of their city magistrates, one constable, the jailor, and six common councilmen are negroes. One colored man in the city owns real estate valued at $10,000. Another is worth $36,000.

The iron safe of the Phoenix Express Company, on the Galveston and Houston Railroad, was robbed on the 15th instant of $10,000 in gold, while in transit from Galveston to Houston.

Office of Udolpho Wolfe,

SOLE IMPORTER OF THE SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS
22 BEAVER STREET, NEW YORK, NOV. 3, '68.

To the People of the Southern States.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, was introduced into the world, under the endorsement of 4,000 leading members of the medical profession, some twenty years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with the strongest possible safeguard against counterfeits, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to 10,000 physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. 4,000 of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce; all of which were more or less adulterated, and, therefore, unfit for medicinal purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps in 1851, and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed, by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants, by vending deleterious trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these Schnapps would have precluded the introductions and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the endorsement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps has been received from the medical profession has been imitated; his labels and bottles have been imitated; his advertisements parroted; his circulars copied, and, worse than all, dishonest retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick, for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned, in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequalled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States, of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps in those markets; and travelers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In conclusion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousands of dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trade mark, has come off triumphant. He, therefore, feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and expose the Chicanery which counterfeits these evidences of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates, from the leading physicians and chemists of this city, will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being, in every respect, pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore obtainable; and, as such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.

DAVID L. MOTT, M. D.,
Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.

26 PINE STREET, NEW YORK, NOV. 21, 1867.
Udolpho Wolfe, Esq., Present.

DEAR SIR: I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

DEAR SIR: The want of pure Wines and Liquors, for medicinal purposes, has been long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe; owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and, from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Bottled Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandy and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise, we remain your obedient servants.

VALENTINE MOTT, M. D., Professor of Surgery, University Medical College, New York.

J. M. CARNOCHAN, M. D., Professor of Clinical Surgery, Surgeon-in-Chief to the State Hospital, etc., No. 14 East 16th street.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself, or to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin. Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHARLES A. SEELY, Chemist.

New York, 53 Cedar Street, Nov. 26, 1867.

DEAR SIR: I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of Schiedam Schnapps, which I took from a fresh package in your bonded warehouse, and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or falsification; that it has the marks of being aged and not recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics. Respectfully,
FRED. F. MAYER, Chemist.

New York, Tuesday, May 1. Udolpho Wolfe, Esq., LEWIS A. SAYRE, M. D., No. 795 Broadway. H. B. DEWEES, M. D., No. 791 Broadway. JOSEPH WOLSTEIN, M. D., No. 120 Ninth street. NELSON STEELE, M. D., Professor of the Principles and Practice of Surgery, New York Medical College, etc., No. 91 Ninth street, and others.

The proprietor also offers for sale Bottled Wines and Liquors, Imported and bottled by himself, expressly for medicinal use. Each bottle has his certificate of its purity.
